♥ June 2019 ♥

Southwest Metro Denver Survivors of Suicide is for adult survivors of suicide who seek comfort and healing after the heartbreaking loss of a loved one to suicide. We know that the grief that follows suicide is extremely difficult, which is complicated and magnified because not only does the survivor have to grieve the loss of their loved one, but also the action that caused their death. For some of you, this may be the first few days or weeks of life without a loved one who died by suicide, or it may be the 1st, 2nd, 5th, 10th year or more of suicide loss. Our group is open to all who share this journey of suicide grief and loss. We are spouses, partners, parents, siblings, children, family members, friends, neighbors, professionals, caregivers, and co-workers, etc. who have all lost someone to suicide. We're sorry you are here but grateful that you've joined us and allowed us to be a part of your healing journey after such a difficult loss. ♥

PLEASE NOTE: This month's meeting will be from 7:00 pm – 8:00 pm in the CONFERENCE ROOM at the Sheridan Library. We apologize for the shorter meeting, but we had difficulty booking our regular meeting room and we need to leave when the main library closes at 8:00 pm. Thank you for your understanding. Please watch this space for details on our July meeting as we were not able to get the Meeting Room for July either and we may move to an alternate location so we can meet for our full hour and a half meeting time.

Kindness Project Healing Art Session

Saturday, July 6th, 2019 2:00 pm – 4:00 pm

Sheridan Library Meeting Room – 3425 W. Oxford Ave., Denver, CO

Cost: Free

The Kindness Project began in 1996 as a way for families to honor their deceased child and to help themselves heal. Now, years later, almost 2,000,000 (yes, two million!) Kindness Project cards have been used around the world to perform random acts of kindness in memory of a child, parent, friend, or spouse who died before their time. The idea is to perform random acts of, usually anonymous, acts of kindness in your community. A little card is left behind so that the person who benefits from the kindness knows that someone's life and death continues to matter. This beautiful movement has helped thousands of families to heal and find positive outlets for their overwhelming grief.

This year Southwest Metro Denver Survivors of Suicide will be participating in The Kindness Project by passing out handmade bookmarks made in a workshop led by artist Marilyn Rae Nasky (www.mraenasky.art). Gather together with us on Saturday July 6th from 2:00 pm – 4:00 pm in this art workshop to learn how art can help us heal our grief. We will meet to distribute these on July 27th at 2pm to honor our loved ones and pass our the newly made art in books across Denver (location(s) TBD) (and in turn those who receive them will hopefully perform a random act of kindness in honor of our loved ones as well)!

Bring small pictures of your loved ones with you to include on your bookmarks if you wish so others know who they will be honoring!

ON DEALING WITH DEATH

By Rev. Kenneth Czillinger

1. For many people it can take 18-24 months to re-stabilize one's life and daily routines after the death of a family member. It can take much longer when the death was a violent one. Recognize the length of the mourning process. Beware of developing unrealistic expectations of yourself.
2. Your worst times may not occur the moment a tragic event takes place. At that time, many are in a state of shock or numbness. Often you slide "into the pits" 4-7 months after the event. Strangely, when you're in the pits and tempted to despair, this may be the time when most people expect you to be over your loss.

3. When people ask you how you're doing, don't always say, "Fine." Let some people know how terrible you feel.
4. Talking with a true friend or with others who have been there and survived can be very helpful. Those who have been there speak your language. They can likely be believed when they say, "I know, I understand." You are not alone.
5. Often depression is a cover for anger. Learn to "uncork your bottle" and find appropriate ways to release your bottled-up anger. What you are going through seems so unfair and unjust.
6. Take time to lament, to experience being a victim. It may be necessary to spend some time feeling sorry for yourself. "Pity parties" sometimes are necessary and can be therapeutic.
7. It's all right to cry, to question, to be weak. Beware of allowing yourself to be "put on a pedestal" by others who tell you what an inspiration you are because of your strength and your ability to cope well. If they only knew!
8. Remember, you may be a rookie at the grief experience you are going through. This may be the first death of someone close. You are new at this, and you don't know what to do or how to act. You can ask for help.
9. Reach out and try to help others, at least in some small way. This little step forward may help prevent you from dwelling too much on yourself.
10. Many times of crisis ultimately can become times of opportunity. Mysteriously, your faith in yourself, in others and in your Higher Power can be deepened through crisis. Seek out persons who can serve as symbols of hope to you.

ABOUT OUR GROUP

Each Southwest Metro Denver Survivors of Suicide meeting is led by trained peer facilitators who have also been personally impacted by suicide, its complex issues, and its aftermath; and our facilitators have each had years of experience with suicide loss support groups.

Because our meetings are peer-led, group members can share their thoughts and experiences in an environment free from the stigma and judgment usually associated with the topic of suicide. Members provide mutual support as they discuss difficulties coping with their shared losses, can seek opportunities to learn new ways of approaching challenges, often look for experience dealing with difficult anniversaries, special occasions or "tender days", and process other feelings often associated with a suicide loss (including guilt, anger, shame, blame, self-doubt, fear, abandonment, etc. in a confidential and non-judgmental environment that is non-discriminatory and is inclusive in nature.

We all share a common experience—the loss of someone close to us by a suicide death; and we believe race, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, military or veteran status, physical disability, presence of a mental health disorder (a loved one's or our own struggle), religion or politics should not be things that further divide us as we grieve. We gather together as loss survivors – we are former spouses or partners; parents; grandparents; children; siblings; aunts or uncles; cousins; friends; co-workers; doctors, dentists, nurses, counselors or therapists; neighbors; etc. – our relationship with those we lost does not matter. Our group exists as a space to share our experiences and our feelings – including those feelings and experiences that others who have not experienced the loss of a loved one by suicide may not understand.

Southwest Metro Denver Survivors of Suicide is a program of The Hope Group, LLC, an organization dedicated to reducing Colorado suicide rates by providing peer support opportunities for all individuals impacted by suicide. Our meetings are open to all adult suicide loss survivors and are free although donations are gratefully accepted! There is no need to call ahead or pre-register before attending however, you are always welcome to call us any time at 720.745.9252 with any questions or concerns you may have. Southwest Metro

Denver Survivors of Suicide meets from 7:00 pm – 8:30 pm on the 2nd Monday every month in the Meeting Room at Sheridan Library*. Sheridan Library is near the intersection of Federal Blvd. & Oxford Ave. (3425 W. Oxford Ave.) in Denver, CO. The Meeting Room is in the first hallway on your left by the vending machines before you enter the main library. We want you to know that we are here for you and hope you will join us at our next meeting.

*The Hope Group, LLC is appreciative of the space that the Sheridan library provides for our meetings and workshops and wishes to acknowledge that the granting of permission by the Arapahoe Library District to use library facilities does not constitute endorsement by the Library District staff or Board of Trustees.
